Alone, or with friends, for one night only! What would you do if you have no-one to talk to?

Instructions Early Game: When the game starts, you will be put in a proper spaceship, but you will not be able to use the space technology. You will however be able to speak to all of your crewmembers. Throughout the first few days, you can use the ship's cannons, and also move around. You can use your ship's engine to fly around the map and scan what is available. You may also make use of the scanner to provide the crew with a rest, and to use a toolbox to repair your ship and your crewmember. Later on, you will have access to the spaceship and to your crewmembers. You can use their special abilities to move around and fight enemies. You can use your plasma rifle to shoot enemies.

Advanced Game: In the advanced game, you can use the spaceship and crew to navigate the environment, defeat enemies, make decisions and complete goals. You can now use the ship's cannon to kill enemies. You can also use the ship to pick up items. On the map you will also find a star map. This will help you to locate what objects are available on the map, and will show you the location of the fuel cells. You can talk with your crewmembers and use their special abilities as well as the ship. The ship can be detached from your crew and it will patrol the map for you. You can also use it to get back to your base. The crew can be controlled individually, one at a time. At the bottom of the ship, you can place plants to grow food. You can use the toolbox to place and repair doors. You can use the fuel cells to generate heat. You can collect an unlimited number of items in the game, and can pick them up while flying. The ship can also be turned into a turret, with unlimited ammo. You can use the upper deck to pick up and place items. You can use the various rooms, but the doors can only be placed in the lower deck. You can pick up alien weapons and use them to defeat enemies. At the end of each day you will be able to fill up your fuel cells. You will use these to keep a heated building that you will use to heal your crewmembers and to fight off enemies. You will also be able to find other buildings and
